

Rev. Smith Goes To Poughkeepsie, Reith to Walden

Ready for Knapp Case Thursday

Charges Arising From 1925 Census Work to Be Presented to Special Grand Jury at Albany.

Albany, N. Y., April 3 (AP).—The case against Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, charged with maladministration of the 1925 New York state census, is ready for presentation to the special grand jury which will be convened here Thursday by Supreme Court Justice Stephen Callaghan, of Brooklyn.

Special Deputy Attorney General George Z. Medalle, of New York, and Deputy Attorney General Albert J. Danaher, appointed by Attorney General Outing to investigate the charges after District Attorney Charles J. Herrick of Albany county had refused to present the case to the regular grand jury, announced last night that they had completed their preliminary investigation. Mr. Medalle is planning a rapid presentation of the case, and a report from the grand jury may be expected as early as Friday.

The early investigation is said to have failed to disclose that Mrs. Knapp's relatives authorized her to endorse their salary checks and cash them as she is accused of doing.

The investigators claim to have discovered a new witness who failed to testify at the Moreland Act investigation conducted by Randall J. LeBoeuf, Jr., of this city, but whose testimony is believed to be of great value in connection with one of the charges against the former secretary.

The special deputies also indicated that some of Mrs. Knapp's relatives may testify against her before the grand jury.

Canada Trade Shows Big Gain

Ottawa, Ont., April 3 (AP).—Canada's trade with the United States increased $53,000,000 in the twelve months ended February 28, over the corresponding period of 1926-27, figures compiled today show. During the same period her trade with the United Kingdom declined $15,000,000.

The total trade for the period ending this last February was $1,209,757,988 with the United States and $599,229,772 with the United Kingdom. The totals a year ago were: United States, $1,156,316,145; United Kingdom, $614,379,269.

Even a more striking difference is shown in imports and exports. Where the United States sent over $217,000,000 worth more goods to Canada than she bought, the United Kingdom bought $220,000,000 more than she sent to the Dominion.

Hays Makes No Comment on Oil

Paris, April 3 (AP).—Pressed for a statement regarding Albert B. Fall's deposition that "a former cabinet member" now in Europe had urged him to conceal the loan that Fall received from Edward Doheny, oil magnate, Will H. Hays, postmaster-general in the Harding cabinet, today said "I will make no comment of any phase of the oil industry."

Hays has maintained this attitude since his arrival in Paris despite many urgent requests that he say something to clear up his part in any such transaction.

MELLON FORESEES NO MATERIAL CHANGE

Washington, April 3 (AP).—Secretary Mellon foresees no material change in business conditions during the balance of the calendar year from those which have prevailed during the last two years.

His views were expressed in a prepared statement on tax reduction submitted today to the Senate finance committee in which he predicted little difference in income tax receipts for the next year.

Y. W. C. A. Needs $9,360 for Year

Excellent Reasons Given for Slight Increase in Budget If Work is to Continue and Grow in Order to Meet Demands.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. W. C. A. on Monday evening was taken up with plans for the annual budget campaign to be held April 16-21. The goal set this year is $9,360, which will carry on the work of the Association from May 1, 1928 to May 1, 1929.

Supporters of the Y. W. C. A., who have contributed so generously in previous years, may question the increase in budget over the last three campaigns. The goal each of these years has been $8,500 and careful administration of funds has made it possible to operate the extensive program within this sum. Next year, however, a larger budget is imperative for two reasons. In the first place, because of increased activities it is necessary to refuse a large number of requests for renting the gymnasium, which has always been a real source of revenue in the past. Regular Y. W. C. A. activities are now scheduled in the hall every afternoon except Saturday, and every evening except Tuesday and Saturday, and it is deemed inadvisable to interfere with this program. In the second place, there has been an increase in the rental of the Y. W. C. A. headquarters, effective May 1, 1928. To meet these changes, the increase in budget is necessary.

The Finance Committee will publish its annual fiscal report of all funds received and disbursed several days before the campaign, also a record of the service rendered to women and girls of the community during the past year.

The members of the Finance Committee who will serve as Executive Committee for the campaign are as follows: Mrs. George F. Rice, campaign chairman; Mrs. Seth Staples, finance chairman; Mrs. Joseph M. Fowler, Mrs. Mary K. Gordon, Mrs. Francis J. Higginson, and Mrs. Frank Thompson. The team captains and members will be announced in the near future.

MICHIGAN ENDORSED HOOVER AND SMITH

Detroit, Mich., April 3 (AP).—Returns compiled today by the Detroit News from 1,712 of 2,987 precincts in the state show that Herbert Hoover received 140,252 votes for the Republican presidential endorsement, and Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, 39,452 for the Democratic preferment in yesterday's preferential primary.

Although the names of Hoover and Smith alone were printed on the ballots, the returns indicated considerable scratching. Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, received 1,514 President Coolidge 342, and Vice President Daves 192 for the Republican nomination, and Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana was given 462; Senator James A. Reed of Missouri 71 and William G. McAdoo 42 votes for the Democratic nomination.

The figures indicated the lightest vote ever cast in any presidential preference primary in Michigan. It was the first primary, however, in which no formal competition was presented on either party ticket.

MONTREAL'S MAYOR DEFEATED BY 20,000

Montreal, Que., April 3 (AP).—Mederic Martin, for years the leader of a powerful political faction of Montreal, today had lost his race for reelection as mayor by a majority of 20,000.

He was defeated in yesterday's voting by Camille Houde, former Conservative member of the Quebec legislature.

The outstanding issue of the campaign was the proposed purchase of the Montreal Water and Power Company. Mayor Martin favored purchase of the company at $14,000,000, a price which his opponent contended was too high. A board of arbitration placed the valuation at $15,500,000. The opponents of the purchase plan then asserted the board had been controlled by the administration.

Mayor-Elect Houde opposed the purchase.

JUNIOR LEAGUE WILL EXHIBIT ARTS AND CRAFTS

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior League took place Monday afternoon at the residence of Miss Florence Tappan on Albany avenue. Plans were discussed for the exhibition of arts and crafts, which is to be held at the Governor Clinton Coffee Shop on the afternoon of April 20. Several of the most talented members of the Junior League have promised to exhibit their work and all the members will contribute a variety of hand made articles to be sold for the benefit of the child welfare work of the league.

WITHHOLDS APPROVAL OF TUNNEY-HEENEY BOUT

New York, April 3 (AP).—The New York State Athletic Commission today unexpectedly withheld its approval for the Tunney-Heeneey heavyweight championship match in spite of the fact that the titleholder has accepted the bout with one of the commission's three leading challengers.

Tax Reduction Must Be Less, Urges Mellon

Tells Senate Finance Committee It Must Be Pared From $200,000,000 to $201,000,000 or Less, Because of Increased Government Expenditures, Principally for Flood Control.

Washington, April 3 (AP).—The $290,000,000 tax reduction voted by the House must be pared down to $201,000,000 and perhaps on $152,000,000, Secretary Mellon told the Senate finance committee today in reporting on the outlook for the treasury for the next year.

This is even less than the treasury proposed to the House last fall and is necessary, he explained, because of increased government expenditures rather than due to any drop in revenues which are expected to equal last year's on the basis of first returns. The first administration proposal was for a $225,000,000 cut. To attain the $200,000,000 limitation, Mr. Mellon suggested to the committee that the present automobile tax of 3 per cent which was repealed by the House be restored to the bill, saving $65,000,000; and that the existing 1 1/2 per cent corporation levy be reduced only to 1 1/2 per cent, rather than to 1 1/4 per cent as voted by the House.

The committee began work today on the House bill, passed before Christmas, after waiting for the March 15 returns.

The Mellon Program

The secretary proposed this program: Downward revision of surtax rates applying on incomes between $14,000 and $75,000—loss in revenue $50,000,000.

Reduction of corporation tax from 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 per cent—loss $123,000,000.

Repeal of federal estate tax—loss, first year, $7,000,000.

Exemption of income derived from American bankers' acceptance held by foreign central banks of issue—loss negligible.

House Provisions Accepted. He also accepted the following House provisions:

Increase from $2,000 to $3,000 the exemption allowed corporations with incomes not in excess of $25,000—loss $12,000,000.

Increase from 75 cents to $1 exemptions on admission tax—loss $5,000,000.

Repeal of tax on cereal beverages—loss $185,000.

Reduction in tax on wines—loss $930,000.

Flood Control Limits Cut

This program would result in a total cut of $201,115,000. But a more gloomy picture was painted on the condition that expenditures will be necessary next fiscal year because of flood control—legislation which already has passed the Senate by unanimous vote. If a $200,000,000 appropriation for this is necessary next year Mr. Mellon said the total tax would have to be limited to $182,000,000.

Under these circumstances he would restrict the provisions of the bill reductions of the corporation tax and the rates on surtaxes applying on intermediate incomes; repeal of the estate tax and cereal beverage levy and reduction on the wine tax.

Both programs would require complete overhauling of the House bill which took no cognizance of previous treasury recommendation for repeal of the state tax and reduction of the intermediate surtax rates.

They would wipe out the House proposal for a graduated scale of rates on corporations with incomes of $15,000 or less and also would prevent any cut in the present 10 per cent tax on club dues.

Income Tax Estimates

Instead of a decrease in income tax receipts, Mr. Mellon, on the basis of first quarter returns this year, estimated that in both this year and next these collections should be $5,000,000 more than originally estimated. Similarly, he revised previous estimates to calculate on $40,000,000 more next year in back tax collections.

But an increase of $85,000,000 in prospective expenditures for next year is where the trouble comes, the secretary explained. The increase is accounted for by additional appropriations for the Veterans Bureau and Navy and War Departments, postal deficiency and an enlarged public buildings program.

He estimated the surplus for this fiscal year, ending June 30, at $400,000,000 and for next year $212,000,000, as compared with estimates of $454,000,000 and $274,000,000, respectively, made last October. On the basis of the latter estimates the tax cut of $225,000,000 was recommended to the House last fall.

Select Delegates In Three States

Wisconsin and New York Choosing National Convention Delegates in Primary Election—Maine Follows Convention System—Banner Day in Pre-Convention Campaign.

Washington, April 3 (AP).—The first of the April crop of delegates to the national political conventions in June were being picked today. Republicans making selection in three states and Democrats in a like number. From the delegate choosing standpoint, it promised to be the banner day thus far of a pre-convention campaign that has been a bit slow in getting under way.

On the day's calendar for both Republicans and Democrats were the Wisconsin primaries, with delegations of 26 to be picked by each party, and the rather perfunctory primaries in New York for ratifying states of $3 district Republican delegates and $6 district Democrats.

In addition, Maine Democrats, making use of the older convention system assembled to select a House delegation of twelve, and Republicans in the Sixth Kansas district were called together to name two convention representatives, thus completing the Kansas delegation of 23 that will go to Kansas City bent on bringing about the nomination of Senator Curtis, the Republican floor leader, who is the Kansas "Favorite Son."

In all, the day will add 111 Republican delegates to the list of 215 already selected, while the Democratic total of 164 will be increased to 288.

Contests in Wisconsin

In Wisconsin, among the Republicans, today's primaries afforded another show-down in the struggle between the LaFollette faction and its more conservative foes, with the LaFollette element supporting a slate of convention delegates pledged to Senator Norris, of Nebraska, a leader in the Senate Independent Republican group, and the opposition backing an uncommitted slate.

In the Wisconsin Democratic primary, Smith, Reed and Walsh were pitted against each other, but on such a different footing that no conclusive test of strength was to be expected. Two slates of delegates pledged to Smith, and a partial delegate slate put up by Walsh followers were in the field, while the Missouri senator, without a slate of delegates, alone was making a bid for the state's preference vote.

New York Unknown Factor

The New York primaries furnished the last step in the make-up of the state's Republican delegation of 90, which will be uninstructed and because of that, and its size, may be somewhat of an unknown factor to the Kansas City Convention. Even after today's voting, New York Democrats still will have to select their delegates-at-large to complete a bloc of ninety votes that are certain to be cast solidly for Governor Smith.

On at least the first ballot at Houston, the New York governor also can count on thirty votes from Michigan, as a result of yesterday's primaries in that state where he had no opposition for preferential endorsement. Likewise, Secretary Hoover, who was unopposed in the Michigan Republican primaries of yesterday, had added that state's 32 delegates to Kansas City to his column.

Michigan delegates were not selected yesterday, but will be named later at party conventions. In the past, delegates from that state have considered themselves bound for at least one ballot by the preferential primary result.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW IN BED WITH COLD

New York, April 3 (AP).—Chauncey M. Depew was confined to his bed today suffering from a cold. The 94 year old chairman of the board of directors of the New York Central Railroad suffered a slight chill while coming to New York last week from St. Petersburg, Fla., and a rise in his temperature yesterday caused Dr. H. Lyman Hooker, his personal physician, to call in medical consultants. Dr. Hooker, however, said his condition gave no reason for alarm.

Mr. Depew had planned to attend the Republican National Convention at Kansas City in June. He missed the Cleveland convention in 1924, the first one he had failed to attend since 1888.

WOLF DISCOVERED BY BOYS PROVED TO BE MUSKRAT

Shortly after 8 o'clock Monday evening two little negro boys burst into police headquarters wildly excited and informed Sergeant Phinney that they had discovered a wolf under a peach basket near the Torrey furniture house on Broadway. So insistent were they that it was a wolf that the sergeant assigned Officer Relyea to the case. The officer found the peach basket described and something stirred under it. It was shot by the officer. Instead of a wolf, however, it proved to be a muskrat.

of my investment should be reduced by 12 1/2 per cent before I receive them, while if I invest the same thousand dollars in a fifty-thousand dollar corporation, which earns a 20 per cent profit, the income is to be reduced by not more than 5, 7 or 9 per cent. The adoption of the principle of graduated taxes applied to corporations will inevitably lead back to the excess profits tax which, impossible of administration, and generally discredited, was repealed in 1921.

Plot Revealed By Street Urchin

Fourteen-Year-Old Boy Gives Canton Police Advance Information of "Red" Uprising—Raided, Followed by Execution of 230 Persons.

Canton, China, April 3 (AP).—A fourteen-year-old street urchin today was credited with having saved Canton from further bloodshed through a communist uprising. He informed police that the Reds were intending to precipitate an uprising similar to that of last December, when they seized control of the city, held it for a few days and were ousted with a large loss of life.

Under the leadership of the youth, the police were shown 18 Red strongholds. Raiding these, the officers arrested 463 communists.

Two hundred and thirty persons, including eight women, were executed. The victims died gladly, saying that ten more heads would roll where one was shot down.

Large quantities of communist literature were confiscated by the police in the strongholds along with grenades, arms and ammunition. Also were worn in the following uprising by the communists, were seized.

The youth said he had learned of the communist plans from overhearing various groups of them talking in the streets. The Reds openly predicted the downfall of the government and threatened to use the torch to precipitate trouble.

The government is uneasy and martial law has been in effect for some time, but the loyalty of the troops is doubtful.

The government asserted that Russians were active behind the scenes in preparing for the uprisings.

Smelts Proved Rather Costly

Smelts are now running in the Rondout creek at Eddyville and many fishermen are taking advantage of that fact and a number of large catches are reported. Fishermen, however, should be careful to see to it that the smelts caught are of legal length.

Monday Game Protectors Castle and DeWitt paid a visit to Eddyville and arrested Leroy and Elmer Harvey, both of Eddyville, charging them with having in their possession smelts under six inches in length.

This morning the case was compromised before Judge Henry E. McKenzie at Port Ewen when the Harveys paid $12.50 each.

Grand Chancellor Visits Pythians

Franklin Lodge, No. 37, Knights of Pythias, received a visit from Grand Chancellor Franklin Moore of the Domain of New York Monday evening at the lodge rooms in Pythian Hall, Broadway and Thomas street. There were Chancellor Commanders from the various lodges in the 14th, 15th and 16th districts present and several of the lodges sent large delegations to welcome the Grand Chancellor. The session was attended by about 200 Knights.

Prior to the meeting of the lodge, 40 members of the Pythian Triangle Club of Franklin Lodge enjoyed their regular monthly banquet. At the conclusion of the banquet the lodge went into regular session and the feature of the evening was an address by Franklin Moore, grand chancellor, and several of the visiting Past Chancellors also spoke. District Deputy Grand Chancellor J. J. Donovan acted as toastmaster.

A telegram of regret was read from Supreme Representative Palmer A. Canfield, Jr., who was unable to attend.

Grand Master at Arms Jay Rifanberry introduced Grand Chancellor Franklin Moore of the Domain of New York; Walter T. Elston, chairman of the Grand Lodge credential committee, and J. J. Donovan, District Deputy Grand Chancellor. Following the introduction of the Grand Lodge officers Mr. Donovan presided. He presented to the lodge P. J. Penrose, D. G. C. of the 14th district; Fields E. Newkirk, D. G. C. of the 18th district, and J. J. Donovan, who presided, represented the 15th district, making three districts in all which were represented.

Among the Chancellor Commanders present were: Edward Moore, C. C. Hope Lodge, No. 68. Harry Knaut, C. C. North American Lodge, No. 115. Floyd Kelder, C. C. Avondale Lodge, No. 298. Frank Stevens, C. C. Rondout Valley Lodge, No. 293. Earl Bennett, C. C. Shandaken Lodge, No. 258. Harry Gordon, C. C. Ontario Lodge, No. 322. Jasper Kelder, C. C. Franklin Lodge, No. 37. Several of the visitors made brief addresses and the talk of Grand Chancellor Moore was interesting and educational. He spoke of the benefits of the order and of the hopes for the future of the Knights of Pythias.

Robbed in a Lunch room. Scott Dumond of 119 North Front street reported to the police Monday that while asleep in a local lunch room he had been robbed of $49 in cash.

Ulster Grange Celebrates Its Silver Jubilee

Golden Rule Inn the Scene of a Banquet, With Speechmaking, in Observance of the 25th Anniversary of the Grange at Ulster Park—State Master the Guest of Honor.

With every Grange in Ulster county represented and every worthy Master in the county, says one who was at present, Ulster Grange, No. 969, Patrons of Husbandry, located at Ulster Park, celebrated its Silver Jubilee Monday evening with a banquet at Golden Rule Inn. The Master of the State Grange, Fred Freeston, was the guest of honor and the principal speaker, and the total number of those at the dinner was 296, filling the large and beautiful dining room of the Inn to its capacity. Although there were 29 speakers on the program and the serving of the dinner did not begin until 7:30, the dining and speaking program had ended and dancing had begun before 11 o'clock. These facts are commended to the consideration of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and other organizations who give dinners that are padded out with many words about nothing in particular until those in attendance either break down and weep or are gassed into unconsciousness.

C. C. Dumond of Ulster Park was the toastmaster to whose restraint (self and otherwise) was due the freedom from wearying features. Mr. Dumond also functioned as song leader, part of the time without any instrumental accompaniment. The arrangements for the celebration were made by a committee of which Harold V. Story, Master of the Pomona Grange, past Master of Ulster Grange and former supervisor of the town of Esopus, was chairman.

The menu, served in the usual excellent style of the Golden Rule Inn, was as follows:

Fruit Cocktail
Salted Nuts
Stuffed Olives
Midget Pickles
Boillion Consomme, Noodles
Fillet of Cod—Baked
Vienna Roast, Italiane Sauce
Carrots and Peas
Potato Boulangaire
Lettuce and Tomato Salad
Apple Pie a la Mode
Coffee
After Dinner Mints.

The exercises, gustatorial and otherwise, began with the assemblage standing and singing a verse of "America" which was followed by the invocation by the Rev. C. H. Polhemus of Port Ewen, for a number of years a member of the Grange.

After the welcoming address by Worthy Master Klein of Ulster Grange the toastmaster remained standing while he called on and listened to the 14 Masters of other Granges, an attitude most encouraging to brevity.

Toastmaster Dumond as his first official Master of the evening introduced Master Raphael Klein of Ulster Grange, No. 969, who briefly welcomed the State Master, the visiting Subordinate Grange masters and the guests of the evening. Mr. Klein stated that of the fourteen charter members three were present at the silver anniversary of the Grange they had organized. They were Henry W. Osborn, Herbert A. Schultz and Frank Van Wageningen.

In response to the welcome extended by Master Klein of Ulster Grange the visiting masters of the Granges of Ulster county responded and extended their congratulations to Ulster Grange. Several of the Granges in the county are older than Ulster Grange, many of them are younger, but all of the Granges in the county were represented at the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration and in every instance but one, the Master of the Grange was present to personally congratulate Ulster Grange. Harold Clarke of Milton Grange was prevented from being present on account of illness, but he was represented by Mr. Vandervoort. The fact that every Grange in the county was represented and every Master except one was present is considered a most unusual thing for it is rarely if ever that all of the Subordinate Granges are represented at one union meeting and probably never before in the history of the Grange has the Masters of all of the Granges in the county been present at one meeting or had a duly appointed representative present.

Those who responded to the address of welcome of Mr. Klein were: Robert J. Service, Master of Stone Ridge Grange, No. 521.
Earl Van Donmark, Master of Highland Grange, No. 855.
Ralph Harcourt, Master of Clintonville Grange, No. 888.
John Osterander, Master of Hartley Grange, No. 911.
C. J. Thompson, Master of Plattekill Grange, No. 955.
William Thornton, Master of Wawarsing Grange, No. 955.
Charles Sable, Master of Asbury Grange, No. 1498.
C. I. LeFever, Master of Rosendale Grange, No. 1501.
Henry DuBois, Master of New Paltz Grange, No. 1605.

Wesley Parish, Master of Lake Katrine Grange, No. 1605.
The Rev. C. B. Ross, Master of St. Tremper Grange.

What appeared on the program as a history of Ulster Grange was next given, but the speaker dealt more with the history of the community than with that of the Grange and more with retrospection and introspection—in a not too solemn manner.

Passover Begins Wednesday. The celebration of Passover, the Jewish Feast of Emancipation, will begin with sundown on Wednesday.

Monroe Shrine Dream of Hoes

Permanent Memorial to President Monroe in Realization of Boyhood Dream of Great-Grandfather, Son of Chaplain Hoes.

On April 23, the city of Fredericksburg, Va., is to hold a monster celebration for the formal opening of the James Monroe Shrine. This date marks the 170th anniversary of the birth of James Monroe, Revolutionary soldier, governor of Virginia, Ambassador to France, President of the United States and author of the Monroe Doctrine.

With the formal opening of the Shrine, the little one story law office where James Monroe established himself as attorney at law and to which he brought his bride, the dream of a boy comes true. This boy, Laurence Gouverneur Hoes, son of the late chaplain Roswell Randall Hoes and Mrs. Rose Gouverneur Hoes, is a great-grandson of James Monroe. He has long cherished a desire to establish some distinguished memorial to his distinguished forbear. This he has accomplished and the city of Fredericksburg has welcomed him with open arms and given to his project every possible encouragement.

A most attractive program is under arrangement for the celebration to which highest public officials and the Diplomatic Corps have been invited. These, of which the following is a copy, have been delivered personally by Mr. Hoes.

The Mayor of Fredericksburg on behalf of the city cordially invites you to attend the opening of "The Monroe Law Office" as a shrine to President James Monroe on the one hundred and seventieth anniversary of his birth in the City of Fredericksburg Saturday, April twenty-eighth, at two o'clock. Luncheon will be served before the ceremonies at "Kenmore" at one o'clock. The favor of a reply is requested to William J. Ford, chairman, committee on arrangements.

With all of the European and South American world centering its attention upon our national and international problems, Laurence Hoes could not have selected a more fitting time to create a vivid and distinctive reminder of the statesmanship and patriotism of James Monroe.

After this young man had carefully considered all places associated with his great-grandfather's life for a memorial site, he purchased the quaint old fashioned building fronting on Charles street in historic Fredericksburg, where Monroe came fresh from his services in the Revolution to hang out his lawyer's shingle. A pupil of Thomas Jefferson, he made a place for himself in the life of the town as he was soon elected councilman—his first public office.

When the task of rehabilitation was completed, a task in which Mr. Hoes had the enthusiastic support of his mother and his brother, Lieut. Gouverneur Hoes, U. S. A., stationed at Ft. Slocum, N. Y., the building was furnished with notable pieces of the famous Monroe-Hoes collection of relics, the most complete in existence. The most striking of all of the treasures in the Shrine, is the famous desk brought from France in 1794. This President Monroe used in the White House, and upon it was written the immortal Monroe Doctrine.

Fredericksburg, already so rich in historic shrines, will be the objective for a record breaking throng on April 28.

OLIVERIA.

Games and contests were played and the lady and gentleman winning the most were awarded prizes. Those winning the least were also given prizes. They cleared $22.66. The society has grown and prospered past all expectations during the two years since it was organized.

The regular business meeting of the C. E. Society was held on Wednesday evening with 49 in attendance. A contest has been running for attendance and new members for six weeks. R. J. Emerick and Everett Barringer were the captains. All have worked hard to keep the attendance up. Mr. Emerick's side lost with 113 against 137 attendance on Mr. Barringer's side. As the losing side had to entertain the winning side, Mr. Emerick surely did his best, together with his team to entertain. Supper of baked beans, salad, sandwiches, cake, and cocoa was served. Then came some lovely home made ice cream. Several games were played. Prizes were awarded for a guessing contest on "how many beans in the can?" Mrs. A. K. Sherry winning first prize and Raymond Schaefer the booby prize. Everybody had a fine time and hoped for another contest. Those who could not attend will surely be sorry when they hear what a good time all had.

News From the World on Wheels

With an April schedule calling for 7,500 more Oakland and Pontiac sales than during April of 1927, the Oakland Motor Car Company is establishing a production record of nearly 160,000 cars for the first four months of the year. This Oakland-Pontiac production represents an increase of 56 per cent over the 52,657 automobiles which the company built during the corresponding period of last year.

Driving from Washington, D. C., to Los Angeles, Cal., a distance of 3,195 miles, in 72 hours, 47 minutes, a Falcon-Knight six Coach with Cannonball Baker at the wheel, has established a new world record for trans-continental travel. This new mark clips six hours and eight minutes off the former world record held by a six cylinder 90 horsepower car selling in the $3,900 price class. The Falcon-Knight's record breaking run from across the continent was officially timed by Western Union, both at the start and finish.

In March, for the second consecutive month, the Marmon Motor Car Company broke all monthly production records in its history and, at the same time, established two new daily sales records and shipped more cars to foreign countries than ever before. March shipments of the Marmon "48" and "78" exceeded the previous high record established in February of this year by slightly more than 20 per cent. A similar increase was recorded in export shipments which were 19 per cent above February and nearly 50 per cent greater than last May, the largest month in 1927. On March 19, more retail deliveries of Marmon straight-eights were reported to the factory than on any other single day in company history, but this record was exceeded by 23 per cent on March 26. Early in the month, 300 wholesale orders were received in a single day to establish another high water mark.

ing evening and all enjoyed it, both young and old. Their regular business meeting was held before the social hour. A report of the box social of the week before showed $22.56 cleared by the society.

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

Quite often in the process of a week Dame Fashion takes a big ride, and when she goes at just the right hour she watches always at a certain corner until a wee little girl whom she calls "Robin Redbreast" gets aboard. With her small box of luncheon, this little girl is on her way to a Normal school kindergarten, but she

Grace J. Austin, can give everybody a pretty good fashion hint. Can you hear her when she says:

"I like to wear my gay red coat. My red felt hat is very light. I think you'll just feel happy, too. If you'll wear something bright."

Dame Fashion has seen some of the most beautiful spring gowns and coats, and ensembles this week that she would ever hope to see. Do you—oh, do you know what butter-mole fur is like? Dame Fashion saw it first this week, and quite entirely lost her heart to it. It was on a wonderful new spring coat which had never a button to bless itself with, but yet was all ready to wrap itself gracefully around some lovely lady. It was of an imported wool goods in the favorite goldy-beige color, and around the neck swept this collar of "butter-mole." It was a "mink-collar," in fact, if you know what that is. The collar sweeps low and folds under, so the hands may have a place to tuck themselves. "Peach-fitch" is another spring, light-colored fur, especially effective on black coats. Some of these coats, by the way, are further adorned by many of the little pin-tucks which are so good this spring.

Can you imagine anything more appropriate for spring than a two-piece dress, all plaited cotton crepe in the skirt, with a blouse exactly to match in color, of this softest, lightest "Angora" cloth? Especially if the color of the dress is in one of the new greens, lime or mint?

There are floating printed chiffon gowns which are happy and snappy and every sort of good rhyme. A touch of black lace on some of these bright dresses brings out the effect of them in an unusual way. A princess of the Arabian Nights would have thrilled with happiness to receive one of these modish gowns with ten thousand golden "nail-heads." One New York gown was seen this week with those suspenders which were so mightily becoming to feminines of a few years ago—almost twenty years, when you come to reckon!

"Come over here, Dame Fashion, and take a whiff of this sweet pea." What is it—a posy? Almost everybody adores sweet peas.

"Maybe this was a posy once, but now it is a perfume, and it floated right over from France. Take just a wee sniff, because if you should want as much as two tablespoonsful of it, you would have to get out a great big 'double eagle of gold!'"

OUR SLANG IN ENGLAND.

American slang seems to be a subject of increasing interest in England, possibly because the "titles" of the popular American films render some acquaintance with it desirable. Yet literary Englishmen confess to the annoyance it causes them. Some remarks on the subject by Robert Lind, reprinted in the Living Age, show that against his will he has been a rather studious investigator of American slang. He objects to it, is critical of its monotony and its odd sound on English lips without the American "accent," and says American captions should be translated into pure English before the films are shown. But the extent of his enforced study is revealed by the following bit of his burlesque: "Any one attempting to reform the English language today is up against a tough proposition. It is a cliché that he would be regarded by most people as a stunt merchant and he would be left unsupported except by a few suckers. I doubt whether, if Mr. Baldwin himself put the reform on his parliamentary program, he would be able to deliver the goods. For one thing, the mutts who go to the cinema would not stand for it, and it is improbable that the proposal would cut any ice, even with the big bugs of his own Cabinet."

TAMMANY AND THE GAME LAWS.

Governor Smith curtly vetoed fifteen bills passed by the last legislature amending game laws. Both his action and his reasons for so doing will be construed by all sportsmen as a blow to efficient conservation of wild life.

The lover of rod and line, gun and dog, individually and collectively, through his sporting organizations, more than any other factor is responsible for present conservation measures. His appeal has been direct through his representatives in the state senate and assembly. The statutes so urged have reflected actual conditions in widely distributed localities throughout the state.

As an alternative for this intelligent cooperation between sportsmen-conservationists and legislators, Governor Smith demands bureaucratic control by the state conservation commission. Game wardens are to be made responsible both for the enforcement of game laws and establishment of new regulations, which may or may not reflect actual conservation needs and may or may not meet with approval of a bureau chief at Albany.

The Governor is unfortunate in his environment. He has never found friends, livelihood and entertainment encompassed by a small rural district. He has no kinship with the hunter or the fisherman. He does not understand the keen interest hundreds of thousands of sportsmen take in recreations of field and stream and the conservation measures that make such pastimes possible.

By arbitrarily refusing to place his signature upon fifteen measures designed to protect wild life simply because he believes such authority should be lodged in a state bureau, Governor Smith strikes a blow at conservation.

TRAINING THE YOUNG IDEA.

The Federal Bureau of Education has issued a "decadology" for school teachers, requiring happiness, toleration and laughter in the school room. We may judge of the full text by the following quotations therefrom: "Thou shalt not scream the names of thy children in irritation. Thou shalt not make of the children little images. Thou shalt laugh when it rains and weep, woolly ones muddy the floor." In a word, this profane travesty of a sacred exhortation requires that the school room be a place of gentleness, sweetness and happiness under all circumstances. But it is noticeable that there are still some who regard this aspiration as more or less impracticable at present, as only a dream of a far-away millennium, owing to the incontinent and voracious existence of the stubbornly refractory child, and who think that without a resort to temporarily harsh measures, the school room is likely to become a pandemonium in the use of a parallel of swiftness and light. This is clearly indicated by the following interesting news item: "Verdict of $1,500 returned by jury against Miss Mary Hickman, teacher, accused of whipping pupil, set aside by Judge C. A. Bursey, and new trial granted."

Although the Pollyanna policy for the school room may meet discomfiture and require discreet modification, there is plentiful indication that the rising generation will acquire at least a measure of "international-mindedness" and become the despair of the old-fashioned chauvinistic militarist. For both teachers and current literature are more and more saturated with abomination of the war spirit and the sentiment that a human being is a brother even though unfortunate enough not to have been born an American or Englishman. One hears over the radio even prayer inspired by the Federal Council of Churches asking for decrease in that "false nationalism," or "chauvinism" that tends toward international misunderstanding, hostility and war. It really looks as if the militarists are going to find the rising generation a pretty tough proposition.

THE WRINKLE IN THE VEST.

A Yale professor said recently that as a young man he contracted tuberculosis. After treatment at a sanitarium he was pronounced cured. Despite the fact that he was cured he found himself able to do just about 25 per cent of his work. He tired so quickly that at the end of each day he realized that he could never get anywhere, never do anything, unless his ability to work increased.

He consulted the head of a well known health institute whose specialty was diet, requesting his help.

The physician looked at him for a moment and then said:

"Do you want to know what is wrong with you?"

"Yes," said the professor.

"Well, you've got a wrinkle in your vest."

Asked for an explanation, the physician stated that the stooped carriage of the body made a wrinkle in the vest. The stooped position crowded the stomach and abdominal organs, and interfered with proper digestion. He was not getting the full benefit of the food he did eat.

Although food entered into the treatment thereafter, the professor tells us that he started immediately to develop the abdominal muscles. These tightened the abdominal walls, his carriage became erect, the wrinkle disappeared in his vest, and it is still erect although this incident occurred nearly thirty years ago.

The doctor told him that it might take four to six weeks before he noticed any improvement, but he tells us that he noted the improvement within ten days.

I believe you can readily see that I am coming back to my old subject, that is the value to the whole body of cultivating the erect carriage. It gives the heart and lungs more room, gives the stomach a chance to do its work properly, prevents too much gas formation, holds the intestines up in position so that there is no downward dropping which creates kinks or loops.

You will also remember the exercise suggested. Lie on back and raise legs slowly almost to the right angle, with knees straight. Do this about eight or ten times, rest a minute or two, and then do it another eight or ten times. Do this night and morning, or oftener if possible, and you'll feel the "washboard" muscles in a few weeks. The suggestion to "stand tall," and "sit tall" will likewise prevent the "wrinkle in the vest."

World-Famous Hymn

The famous medieval hymn, "Stabat Mater" describes the sufferings of the Virgin Mary as she stood at the cross of Jesus. It is generally spoken of by the name "Stabat Mater" from the first words: "Stabat Mater dolorosa, Junctis lacrimis, Dum pendebat filium." It was formerly attributed to various authors, including Pope Innocent III, St. Bonaventura and St. Bernard, but it is now generally ascribed to Jacopone da Todi.

WEIGH WHAT YOU DESIRE

If you over-weigh, the cause may not be in over-eating or under-exercise. It may be in a fault in nutrition which modern research has discovered. And which science now corrects.

The method is embodied in Marmola's prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And many of the people you know—with slender figures, new vivacity and health—will urge you to adopt this way.

The use of Marmola's does not require abnormal exercise or diet. In every box you will find the formula, also the reasons for results. You will know just why your weight comes down and why every effort is helpful. Learn the facts, and do it now. Do so by asking your druggist today for a $1 box of Marmola's.

Give Your Hair a Chance

By Edna Wallace Hopper.

Your hair has a really important role in the scheme of attracting. It can be glowing, it can be dull. It can be alive with high lights or it can be continually stifled and colorless.

See for yourself what a happy influence cleanliness is. I wash my hair once a week with the best shampoo I have been able to find. It cleanses so thoroughly that the hair follicles are free to function as they normally should. This brings out the natural coloring, which is most harmonious and flattering to your complexion.

You can get my Fruity Shampoo at any toilet counter. The price is 60 cents.

DANDRUFF

NO ITCHING ITCHING

It is easier to lay down good habits than to change bad ones.

When you respect the child's ideas, which are at variance with your own, he gradually senses it and in return he learns to observe your points of view with due regard. It is a first lesson in understanding and tolerance.

From 1927, 123, Cambridge, the Magazine for Parents, New York.

On Rearing Children

from CRIB to COLLEGE

Compiled by the Editors of "CHILDREN, The Magazine for PARENTS"

From their early years encourage your children to talk about the things that happen to them. This will help you understand them and will save them from unnecessary suffering due to hesitancy in bringing you their problems.

Every day in a child's life is a day of growth. It takes nearly twenty-five years to produce a fully developed adult. At no stage of this progress can we afford to ignore the influence of food. The first seven years are the most critical—the baby may be made ill by a single unsuitable meal; the preschool child is far more sensitive to an inadequate diet than the school child. We cannot make up later for dietary deficiencies which have produced poor teeth or a contracted chest or have caused permanent injury to the digestive tract. In this sense the first seven years determine physical fitness.

Every child must learn to get on with other people. Parents can be helpful in teaching children the art of making friends.

Any parent may become his child's first music teacher. Musical education is no longer a matter of scales and technique. Before scales, or if never scales, the child should be helped to a friendship with good music and an understanding of the language of which scales are the alphabet. Practice in the hearing rather than in the making of music is now not only the foundation of study but, in the words of the late President Elliot of Harvard, "actually it takes its place as an education—as a means of developing the human child—nothing will more perfectly cultivate the human spirit."

Putting a brilliantly endowed child against a normal one of the same age or a naturally bright younger child against a retarded older child is a bit of refined cruelty.

The coming of a little brother or sister may stimulate the development of some of the finest virtues in the character of the older child and there need be no hint of jealousy on his part if the situation is properly handled. But even a thoughtful parent often fails to realize just what a serious shock the advent of a new baby is to the emotional life of the "baby" who is supplanted. This period that furnishes so fertile a soil for the sowing of the seeds of jealousy cannot be handled too carefully by loving parents.

After-Fifty Cost Dress Is Worth Consideration

Do you use color to advantage? Some older women are afraid of it while others use it boldly and wisely to obtain a more youthful slenderizing silhouette. A mass of color correctly placed, says the Woman's Home Companion, will really do more for you than timid thin lines or sprinkled spots. In this frock attention is focused on the contrasting front panel so that one does not notice if the hips bulge or the waistline is too thick because they have been placed in a subdued dark background. If you wish to make a formal afternoon frock black satin with white georgette panel would be smart, or for less formal affairs navy blue faille with hydrangea blue or brown with beige would be charming.

ELEANOR GUNN On Fashions

America Has First Choice of and Chance to Wear Models from Recent Paris Openings—Names and Types Important at the Moment

Paris—Do the rank and file of American women realize that they are in possession of Paris clothes before French women are, and that before the Paris collections have been viewed by the women here, they are a familiar story at home?

When the haute couture show their collections to American buyers, the consumer is not admitted, nor is it possible to order a dress or coat at this time that is not to be shipped to America. By March 1, as an example, one sees none of the dresses from the late January and first of February collections in Paris, although, of course, they are worn on the Riviera, where a great number of fashionables are enjoying themselves.

Originals and Copies.

The fact that American women have the first chance then of seeing and wearing the new French clothes, at this season, at least, is gratifying, and the fact that the well-dressed American woman in Paris is about the best-dressed woman one sees, is surely another source of national pride. It is true that many French women cannot pay the exorbitant prices asked by the leading dressmakers this season for their models, and the embarrassment of wearing a copy is something that one who resides in Paris is careful to avoid. It is easy to understand that it would not be comfortable to saunter into Vionnet's as an example, in a model that did not bear her label, but was copied from one in her collection.

Tourists on the other hand, seek out copies, that is, such tourists as are not intent on the label or signature of the artist, but are determined to possess models that pass as originals. One learns in Paris to speak of "a Vionnet" or "a Rebour" as one speaks of a Rembrandt or a Corot.

The Five Leaders.

Usually each season brings one or two names forward in the ranks, and one or two collections stand out as being conspicuously successful. In the opinion of many, the successes of the season have been achieved by Vionnet, Chanel, Patou, Molynoux, and Lelong. It is of interest that the three last-named are men.

Not that there is anything extraordinary in men being successful in the creation of feminine fashions. For many years we have had Worth as the bright particular star of the style firmament, while Poiret and others have ably demonstrated that feminine clothes need not emanate only from feminine minds. Yet the fact that three of the five outstanding successes are men seems to deserve recognition.

Curiously enough, while many criticized the Louiseboulanger collection, and she is not mentioned among the first five, her type has perhaps come in for the greatest amount of publicity, and has a wide influence on dress standards of the moment. One accounts for this because of the fact that her season's collection was more or less a repetition of her previous collections.

Modernizing Robe de Style.

She varied her famous long back or peacock silhouette, and did all manner of individualistic things to her models, yet the type remains unchanged. Her influence, particularly on the mode for evening, is great. She has succeeded in producing interesting interpretations of the classic robe de style, modernizing it and in some, although not all, instances making it easier for the average woman to wear.

Louiseboulanger makes use of flowered chiffons, for example, for this type of dress rather than running the gamut of taffetas and satins, although these fabrics are also represented at this house. One has the choice of diaphanous and flowery chiffons or silks and satins, which almost repeat their age-old achievement of "standing alone."

Woman Protests D. A. R. Black List

Fight to be carried to National Convention of that organization says woman who protests against system of espionage, innuendo and apertion.

Boston, April 2 (AP).—The "Black List" of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Massachusetts stood revealed Monday by one of the leading members of the organization, who at the same time denounced the policy under which it is compiled and indicated that a fight against it would be carried to the door of the national convention.

The woman who made public the long list of prominent persons and organizations, that for one reason or another have come under the ban of the organization, was Mrs. Helen Tufts Bailey, direct descendant of Anne Adams Tufts, a Revolutionary heroine.

The "Black List" Mrs. Bailey said, was obtained from a member who said the original compilation was in the hands of Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd, of Milton, state chairman of the D. A. R. committee on national defense. Mrs. Hurd declined to comment. In denouncing the system, Mrs. Bailey declared: "I am speaking not simply as a D. A. R. but as a citizen who protests against the whole system of espionage, innuendo and patriotic societies."

Persons barred by the list from appearing before chapters of the organization in this state included such well known names as Dean Roscoe Pound of the Harvard Law School, President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke College, Prof. Felix Frankfurter of Harvard, Federal Judge George W. Anderson of Boston, W. E. DuBois, negro novelist, Clarence Darrow, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Norman Hapgood, Dr. David Starr Jordan, William Allen White, Frank P. Walsh, the Rev. E. Tallmadge Root, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches, and others.

Others unwelcome as speakers, included, according to Mrs. Bailey, persons publicly associated with the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the National Catholic Welfare Council, the National Child Labor Committee, many college students' liberal clubs and others which were objected to on the ground that they were of radical, socialist or communistic sympathies.

Country Wrongly Named.
Holland is a popular but erroneous name for the kingdom of The Netherlands. It arose from the fact that Holland was the name of one of the most populous and wealthy provinces of the original kingdom. North Holland and South Holland are still the names of two provinces in The Netherlands.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—The two James boys, Mayor Ralph of San Francisco and Mayor Walker of New York, like each other. The characterization came from New York's Jimmy when San Francisco's called. Mayor Ralph wore a straw hat six weeks ahead of the season. He also had highwater boots. Mayor Walker wore a derby when the two "yoned." "Before and After" is what he suggests as a caption for the picture.

Paris—The troubles of a coming (1) heavyweight champion are beginning. Tom Heeney tried to dress for dinner and was knocked out by his first hard bodied shirt. "Worse than fighting Tunney," he remarked as he tore it.

New York—Bareheaded college boys are hurting the hat business. Herman Finkelstein, a union official, told delegates to a trade conference that he didn't want the boys to get cold, but he wishes they would buy some headgear.

New Brunswick, N. J.—In the days of the forty-niners it took George G. Gardner and bride three months to get to California. Their great granddaughter, Miss Sue Hill, has just flown from Piedmont, Cal., in 34 hours. She brought from Mayor Cornell of Sunnyvale, Cal., a gift of peaches, which will perhaps inspire witty remarks from the recipient, Mayor Walker of New York.

New York—The custom of a golden horseshoe setting for a new diamond on the left hand of a young lady of high social position, has been revived by Mrs. Ogden Goellet. She provided her box at the Metropolitan Opera for Miss Betty Taylor and her fiance, Currier Dyer, the day after the announcement of their engagement.

Tientsin—Marshall Chang Taung-Chang, ex-banli, is president of Shantung Government University, among other things. "If you want advice about the curriculum, don't come to me," he told students. "I know nothing about such matters." But he promised to get the boys jobs and the school money.

New York—Big Jack Ryan of Country Tipperary is going to have a better time in New York on his bit of holiday than he expected. He was aboard the Cedric bound for this port when the radio told that Tipperary Tim, 100 to 1, had won the grand national. "Sure," I drained him," said Big Jack. "I had a fever on him." Which means that he won $2,500.

Rome—The Pope is much interested in the indexing of 3,000,000 manuscripts in the vatican library. He has chatted with American experts at work.

New York—Count Herman Kersling, who has been touring this country three months, regards his visit as a moral test cure, abate of racial and political bias, in contrast to Europe, acted as a tonic to him; but this is two caste country, with the women queens and the men slaves.

Vienna—In the opinion of Cardinal Piffel, Austria is in a bad whirl of licentiousness. He uttered a warning in an Easter sermon.

A Hot Bath Is So Refreshing!

"Madame's bath is ready"—what woman has not in her secret heart wished to hear these words from the lips of her maid? What luxury, what comfort the whole thing implies! A refreshing hot bath, ready when you want it, can drive away the "blues" and brace you up for the day's duties—whether you have a maid to draw it or not.

We all have our dreams, even though some of them are never realized. But there's no need to keep the thoughts of a continuous hot water supply for all your household needs in the dream class. A gas storage water heater installed in your home means hot water at the turn of a faucet for every demand of the day's tasks.

67th Anniversary Of Thing's Shoes

Thing's Shoe Stores are celebrating their 67th anniversary. The first store was established in Boston in 1861 by Samuel B. Thing just as Lincoln was inaugurated and the growing scenes of the Civil War were being enacted. This beginning is another example of those ventures based on courage, vision and Yankee thrift. Born in York county, Maine, in 1823, Mr. Thing came to Boston at 15 years of age to seek his fortune. He first secured a job with a contractor for $3 a week and board. From these small earnings he saved $500 and with this small capital he embarked in business for himself, jobbing and retailing shoes, in spite of the small beginning he steadily increased the business until at the time of his death in 1904 he was at the head of one of the largest concerns of its kind in the country. Various partners were associated with Mr. Thing at different times, but at his death these were Fred S. Sawyer and William A. Richardson, two young men who had grown up in business with him and to whom he committed the care of his estate. They were apt pupils of an able master. They continued the business on the sound and square methods developed by the founder, their industry and skill carrying it forward to even greater success. In 1925 a favorable opportunity was availed of to dispose of their wholesale business and the title of it was changed from S. B. Thing & Co., Inc., to Thing's Shoe Stores, Inc.

Mr. Sawyer, who was Mr. Thing's immediate associate, maintains the concern's reputation for thrifty values and square dealings, as principal owner, treasurer and general manager. The business now consists of a store in Ft. Wayne, Indiana, and the others concentrated in New York city and towns thoroughly covering the state. Buying and accounting headquarters are maintained in Boston, where the business was founded and which is the center of the greatest source of supplies for the footwear trade. Thus this old business built on fine traditions of integrity and service and keeping step with the progress of the present, continues to thrive and it is with justifiable pride that it celebrates its 67th anniversary.

CHICAGO YOUTH MAKES NEW SWIMMING RECORD

Chicago, April 3 (P).—A new world's swimming record is due to go down on the books. It was established at the National Amateur Athletic Union's indoor swimming championships last night.

Skimming through the 60 foot pool of the Chicago Athletic Association in 5 and 3-5 seconds better time than the old world mark, a 20 year old youth, Walter Laufer of Chicago, unattached, won the national title in the individual 200 yard medley swim. Walter Spence of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A., the defending champion, was second and Allan Cross, Erie, Pa., Y. M. C. A., third. Laufer's time was 3:39 4-5 seconds. The old record, held by himself, was 3:45 3-5 seconds.

America's "human fish," Johnny Weissmuller of the Illinois Athletic Club, easily retained his national title in the 220 yard free style event in the slow time of 2:10 2-5 seconds. Laufer finished second and Paul C. Sanson of the I. A. C., third.

Nine other championships are to be decided in various Chicago club pools this week.

Draught of Lysol Fatal to Woman

Mary Heffernan, aged 35, of Poughkeepsie died in Vassar Hospital early Monday morning after swallowing the contents of a Lysol bottle in the bath room of her boarding house at 214 M. street Sunday morning. The cause for her action could not be learned. John Osterhout, 37, a painter, with whom police say she had been living at the address given, is being held pending the outcome of an investigation. According to Osterhout, he was sitting in a room with the woman Sunday afternoon when she became hysterical and excited. After attempts to soothe her the landlady, Mrs. Helen Curtis, requested that they make less noise. The woman became calm and went to the bath room where a bottle was heard by another roomer to drop to the floor. An investigation disclosed that the Lysol had been taken and Dr. Thomas L. Mahoney was summoned. He treated her and ordered her removed to Vassar Hospital after she had lapsed into unconsciousness.

A doughnut fried in Snowdrift makes you think it's unfortunate for anything so good to have a hole in it. Snowdrift doughnuts are light and tender and wholesome with thin golden crusts.

Snowdrift has a way of making all kinds of fried food taste extra-good. Perhaps that's because Snowdrift is so wholesome and appetizing itself—so fresh and delicate that it makes remarkable cakes and pies and hot breads.

Snowdrift is very economical for frying, too. Strain the Snowdrift that's left in your frying pan, and you can use it again because Snowdrift doesn't take up any odors or flavors from food fried in it.

Chandlers Lose To Red Shields

Salvation Army Quinlan Wins First Game From Chandlers—Fox and Merritt Led the Score—Artistic Team Clinched Victory.

The Red Shields defeated the Chandlers, 41-24 in the second battle of the season at the Salvation Army Monday night. In the preliminary, the Artistics trimmed the Clinton Avenue Church boys, 14-13. Shortly after the game started Merritt scored the first point for the Red Shields by making his foul shot good. Joyce also came through with a foul for the Red Shields, but Fox of the Chandlers made a pretty shot from the side of the court tying the score. The deadlock was not for long as the Chandlers soon broke away when Fox again scored from scrimmage and Blam followed with a foul. The Chandlers had the upper hand at the end of the first quarter 7-4. Dalia of the Chandlers, and DuBois of the Red Shields went to the bench on four personal fouls in the beginning of the second quarter. In the second quarter the Red Shields started to find the basket, and added 11 points to their score, while the Chandlers only added 7 points. The score at the half was 17-14 with the Red Shields in front. Although the Chandlers held the ball the most of the time throughout the first half they were unable to locate the hoop. Short of the Red Shields, who entered the game in the second half started the scoring by finding the hoop for a two pointer. Fox then followed with a long shot from the center of the court for the Chandler five. Krum was the next to score, caging two shots from scrimmage which netted four more points for the Chandlers' tally. When the Red Shields called time out the score was 23 all with both teams having 5 fouls and 5 fouls. Joyce then broke the tie with one of his long shots from the center of the court. When the whistle blew for the end of the third quarter the score was 27-24 with the Red Shields once more in the lead. Kennedy of the Chandlers made a field goal, started a scoring rampage for when the Salvation Army team called time out the Chandlers held the score 29-25. This new lead was also lost when Joyce scored five points in succession. When the final whistle blew the Red Shields led the score by five points, 41 to 36. Merritt was leading scorer for the Red Shields with 14 points while Fox was big point getter for the Chandlers with 15 points to his credit.

Artistics Won Game.
In the preliminary game between the Artistics and the Clinton Avenue team the Artistics began to score early in the game but the Clinton Avenue boys soon found themselves and at half time the score was deadlocked at 8 points. Throughout the second period both teams fought hard but the Artistics managed to cop the game by three points. Graney of the Artistics was leading individual scorer with 11 points.

HOPPE FAVORED TO CAPTURE REISELT'S TITLE

Chicago, April 3 (AP).—Willie Hoppe, former 19.2 Balkline king and holder of the three-cushion high run record of 23, planned his debut in the national three-cushion tournament competition today when he meets Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago, former champion.

Hoppe is the favorite to take the title from Otto Reisel of Philadelphia. Reisel won his first game yesterday defeating Art Tharabard of Chicago. Len Kasey of Chicago furnished the first upset of the tournament, when he defeated Kieckhefer, 50 to 49 in 62 innings. The former champion started off brilliantly with runs of four and twelve, respectively, in the first two innings and then slumped.

Intersectional Basketball Games

(By F. C. Allen)

Lawrence, Kan., April 3 (AP).—Basketball always has followed closely in the wake of football, patterned its administration and methods closely after the trail blazer. So, football having proven the efficacy and desirability of intersectionalism, we stand on the threshold of intersectional games in basketball.

More interest, bigger field houses and increased attendance have erased the court game from the problem column, making intersectional trips and games financially possible.

So basketball should profit greatly by the first called meeting of the National Association of Basketball Coaches in Chicago, April 5 and 6, coincident with Stagg's national high school tournament, which will serve as a valuable laboratory for the sectional points of discussion.

Is no branch of athletics is the need of national coherence and standardization felt as much as in basketball. Each section has its different style of play, often radically different from the style of another section.

For the good of the game, these various styles must be fused and there within a few years through the National Association and intersectional games. No other sport has such adequate machinery for nationalism as basketball has in the National Association, which is representative of all sections. The Western Conference is represented by Craig Ruby, basketball coach of the University of Illinois as vice president, second vice president is L. P. Andreas of Syracuse, representing the east, and third vice president is C. M. "Nibs" Price of the University of California from the west. A. A. Shabinger of Creighton is the secretary-treasurer, representing the North Central conference. The Rocky Mountain section, south-west and old south have active representatives on the board of directors. E. A. athletic director of the University of Kansas, representing the Missouri Valley.

As no other sport has such adequate machinery for nationalism, no other sport has a more present need for fusion of sectional play. With exactly the same rules, different sections have made different interpretations. In the far west guarding, especially guarding from the rear, whether the man with the ball is touched or not, is called more strictly than elsewhere. In the middle west the claim is the game is too rough, and traveling and pivoting are too tightly limited. In the south and north there is a wide divergence upon interpretations.

The reason is plain—basketball as a non-profit paying sport in the past, has been strictly a sectional game with no meeting of intersectional teams or coaches.

The spread of better basketball and fusion of sectional play will be somewhat handicapped for a time by hostile attitude of coaches in conference, where winning the championship is the all-important thing. We will, however, escape that provincialism and sectional selfishness within a few years. It has been discarded in football. I believe an intersectional game in basketball should be played just as much to win as a conference game, and equal importance, placed upon its outcome. There should not be the alibi after the intersectional trip that the team has gone stale, and should not be expected to make a good conference showing, and that alibi will entirely disappear after a few seasons of play.

LOTTE SCHOENMEL SETS NEW ENDURANCE RECORD

Mrs. Lottie Schoenmel of New York, who stayed in Kingston last year when she completed a relay swim from Albany to the metropolis in 54 hours' swimming time, broke an endurance record Sunday which had stood for 47 years, by finishing a 22 hour swim in Delaware Pool, Miami Beach, Fla.

The record which she broke was a 31 hours' mark set by Miss Edith Johnson who swam in Black Pool, England. Mrs. Schoenmel, who announced that she will attempt to swim the English Channel in September, walked to the showers without assistance, and said she felt a little tired and a little sleepy. Coffee, tea and bouillon were given to the woman at regular intervals by swimmers.

McLarnin Had Difficult Time to Get Bouts Five Years Ago

JIMMY McLARNIN, latest sensation of the ring, needed only two punches to beat Sid Toppis and elevate himself to fame, but the real story of the little Irishman's ring career dates back five years ago. Early in 1923 Jimmy and his manager, "Pop" Foster, could not get a fight in San Francisco. The pair came down from Vancouver, British Columbia, eager for ring conquests, but short of money.

The game was flourishing in San Francisco, but it did not mean much to McLarnin and company. "Pop" brought his charge to officials of the Observatory club. They looked the boy over—he was about six years old and weighed 110 pounds—and informed his manager that they wouldn't put him on. He looked too young and they were afraid he would get hurt.

Finally an Oakland promoter, impressed with the boy's workouts, put him on a card.

Jimmy fought Frankie Sands in the curtain raiser. For defeating Sands he got $35. The same Jimmy got a check for near $20,000 for his one-round knockout of Toppis, pride of New York's East side, at Madison Square garden. After beating Sands the young Irishman had no trouble in getting preliminary bouts. From a curtain-raiser fighter he worked up to semi-main event caliber.

In 1925, when ten-round boxing was legalized in California, Jimmy had to "fudge" a couple of years to get a boxer's license.

Tommy Simpson, Oakland promoter, gave the boy a letter to a friend in Los Angeles in the same business. There McLarnin broke into the main event class. He returned to Oakland later in 1925 and took a ten-round decision from Pancho Villa, then flyweight champion. The title was not at stake, however, as Jimmy weighed 122 pounds.

Later, McLarnin, who had earned such various ring cognomens as "The Belfast Spider," "Irish Wizard" and others, went back to Los Angeles and stunned the fight gentry with knockouts over Joe Sanger and Jackie Fields. He also won on a foul and lost a decision to Bud Taylor, taking his worse beating in the latter bout. Last year in San Francisco he lost a decision to Tommy Cello, lightweight.

The Royal English Henley regatta will be rowed on the Thames on July 4, 5, 6 and 7.

The cameramen are on their way South, too. O'Goofy says he expects to hear of startling exposures.

An invitation to hold the 1932 winter Olympic games in Duluth will be sent the American Olympic committee.

One reason why baseball players like golf is because they can mark all their hits themselves and there aren't any errors.

Larry Kopf, former shortstop for the Cincinnati Reds, has been selected to succeed Ben Egan as baseball coach at Georgetown university.

Leo Galland, director of athletics of the University of Southern California at the age of twenty-six, is the youngest head coach in the country.

Despite rumors to the contrary, Fidel La Barba, retired flyweight champion who is now studying at Stanford, says he is through with the ring.

They can't accuse Burt Shotton of letting the Phillies go to pieces. He takes them over this year after they finished last in 1927. That may be a break.

Florida is beginning to compete with California in giving big prizes to open golf champions. You can't make a golf pro sore with such rivalry as that.

Big Bill Kelly, who hit 44 home runs in the International league last season, thinks he'll make the grade for the Phillies this summer. He is a first baseman.

The Cubs lost a very promising rookie in Catcher Leggett, bought from the Sally league, when that young man decided to follow dentistry instead of reporting.

Joe Ray, the little "Kankakee Flyer" who is planning a comeback, has won 60 one-mile races under 4:20, and holds with Paavo Nurmi the world's indoor record of 4:12.

Sam Rice of the Griffith squad, is in his element, as usual. Rice takes golf trophies in the sprang tournaments at Hot Springs the way a sugar baby takes a sugar papa.

John Ball, Seattle's octogenarian golf architect and course builder, dates his activities with the game back nearly three-quarters of a century, to his boyhood days in England.

A golfer in California won a loving cup one day and the next ran away with another man's wife. If he had won at tombstone golf he might have erected a monument over his remains.

Johnny Magee, track coach at Bowdoin college, predicts that Sabin Carr, Yale's great pole vaulter who recently cleared 14 feet 1 inch at a New York indoor meet, will eventually top the bar at 15 feet.

One of the marvels of the harness racing sport is the eighteen-year-old trotter David C, which has been one of the fastest racers in the past nine years, during which time he has won over 30 events.

INTER-CHURCH ATHLETIC MANAGERS TO MEET

A special meeting of the managers of all sports in the Inter-church Athletic League at the Y-M. C. A. will be held on Monday evening, April 9, at 7:30 o'clock at the Y. Managers of the volley ball, basketball, baseball,

Cardinals Fear Giants in Chase for Pennant

Bill McKechnie, who piloted one world championship club at Pittsburgh in 1925 and hopes to lead another in St. Louis this season, is not among those who count the Giants out of the National league race because of the departure of Rogers Hornsby and his big bat.

Bill expects the Pirates to furnish the chief opposition for the Cardinals, but as the St. Louis Globe-Democrat quotes him:

"The Cubs and the Giants also will be up in the race. There are many inclined to count the Giants out of it after they traded Hornsby to the Braves. I believe they are making a great mistake. The Giants with McGraw at the helm are always dangerous."

The punch supplied by Hornsby's bat will be missed, undoubtedly, but Cohen is said to be a rising star. And remember, if Cohen fails to fill the bill McGraw will go out and nab some one who can. McGraw is one you can't keep down."

Monte Munn Won't Hang Up His Fighting Mitts

Monte Munn, the giant Nebraskan, is not through by any means. Although discouraged because he had the misfortune to be stopped in his last two starts, the big fellow is far from putting up his gloves.

Munn is awaiting word from the Argentine. He has been offered a match with Vittorio Compello, the giant whom Tex Rickard listed as a possible contender for the heavy-weight title. Monte is a business man first, last and always. He wants the money deposited with the American consul before he sails. That is all that is holding up the match.

Governor of New Jersey Signs 15-Round Bill

New York state has a rival in the matter of promoting fistie extravaganzas.

Gov. Harry Moore of New Jersey has signed the Altman bill, calling for 15-round bouts to a decision in that state. In the future they will bid with the Empire state for the best attractions that the ring affords.

Heretofore boxing in New Jersey was limited to 12 rounds, no decision.

Norton A. K. Bugbee, who supervises boxing in New Jersey, will now be empowered to designate all bouts as decision contests.

bowling and horseshoe teams are invited.

Besides this meeting there will also be an important meeting of the Board of Managers of the Athletic League to consider the reorganization of the league. Refunds and prizes will also be discussed and plans for the baseball and horseshoe leagues will be made.

Results of the Major Contests

New York, April 3 (AP).—As 14 major league teams are drawing nearer home day by day, they may view with some alarm the bad example set by the two Philadelphia clubs, already at home working overtime before the starting bell rings.

The family argument of the Athletics and Phillies became so heated yesterday that it was necessary to play 11 innings before the American Leaguers were returned winners, 3 to 5. The Phillies came from behind to tie the score in the eighth and remained on their best behavior until the 11th inning when they threw discretion to the winds and committed numerous baseball sins, including a balk.

Larry Denton met the challenge to pitch nine innings for the New York Giants by turning Washington back with one run, while the National Leaguers were counting 12. Denton struck a blow in his behalf in the shape of a home run.

The World Champion New York Yankees saw the Atlanta Crackers steal their thunder by smashing out 19 hits to score 10 runs, just enough. Lou Gehrig's three triples proved interesting but not conclusive. Stan Coveleskie, attempting a comeback, found the southerners trying to give him a setback. They took the lead while he was pitching and were never headed.

The bubbling spirits of the Chicago Cubs were near the boiling-over point as they shelled the Pittsburgh Pirates into submission for the fifth time in as many chances. The score was 6 to 1. Art Neftci showed that there is yet life in the old southpaw by pitching seven innings of good baseball.

Brooklyn continued to go along under the momentum of hard hitting behind good pitching and won from Jacksonville, 12 to 4. The veteran, Bill Doak, took advantage of the youth of the Southeastern Leaguers and shut them out while he was pitching.

The St. Louis Cardinals stopped Knoxville of the "Sally" League, 9 to 8. Two former cripples, Ray Blades and Chick Hafey, led the winning attack. Blades with four hits for nine bases exceeded his normal spring put.

Slightly stunned at Tulsa, where they get many of their players, by a first-inning home run with the bases full, the St. Louis Browns kept pecking away until they won, 9 to 8.

Chicago's White Sox won from Memphis, 5 to 3, because they were nailing off on runs and not hits, the big leaguers falling behind in safeties.

Jake May and Ray Kolp pitched so well for Cincinnati, that the Reds were able to blank the Louisville Colonels while they were scoring seven runs.

Vic Sorrell and George Smith shut out Del Pratt's Waco Club as the Detroit Tigers scored seven runs, aided by the five hits from Harry Rice's bat.

Tommy Karakas, who will meet Jackie Haskell at the card of bouts at the armory, Friday night, April 13, is scheduled to meet Jack Sperry at the 22nd Engineers' armory, New York city, tonight in a six-round bout.

Poughkeepsie High To Compete.
The Poughkeepsie High School quintet left that city Sunday morning for Chicago where they will compete in the national championship with forty other high school teams. The team was scheduled to arrive in the windy city today for their first workout on the University of Chicago court. Coach Sam Kalloch and J. Schuyler Fox, principal of the school, left for Chicago with the boys.

HIS LORDSHIP WHIPS YOUNG LONDON "BOBBY"

Bford, England, April 3 (AP).—In a round four round fight, Viscount Knabworth, 25 year old son and heir of the Earl of Lynton, last night defeated Pommman Bone, a young London "Bobby."

Knabworth, a well-known professional, had achieved a reputation as an amateur boxer. He was not, but for Bone, who although a boxer, was not expert when it comes to exchanging blows with the representative of the nobility.

His lordship took the lead from the start, demonstrating a dangerous left which constantly forced the Bobby's head. Bone, however, managed to get a few blows past the nobleman's guard.

There was much fighting at close quarters in the second round and Knabworth had the better of it in the third and fourth rounds. His lordship maintained his advantage, but Bone drove in some smart arm jabs in retaliation for the Viscount's lefts. The referee's award of the bout to Knabworth was enthusiastically cheered.

Chatting after the fight, Viscount Knabworth said, with a laugh, that he would like to fight the entire police force since they had summoned him to court three or four times for leaving his car unattended.

Knabworth is a direct descendant of Edward Bulwer Lytton, poet, novelist, orator and statesman. He gained prominence as a boxer while at Oxford.

ATHLETICS WILL NO LONGER WEAR ELEPHANT.
Philadelphia, April 3 (AP).—Connie Mack says he is not superstitious, but the Philadelphia Athletics after next Wednesday no longer will wear a white elephant symbol on their uniforms.

The new uniforms will be trimmed with royal blue instead of navy blue and the letter "A" will replace the elephant.

Manager Mack recalled that the last time the team wore this uniform was in 1914, the year the A's won the American League pennant.

DeMolay Alumni Plan Association

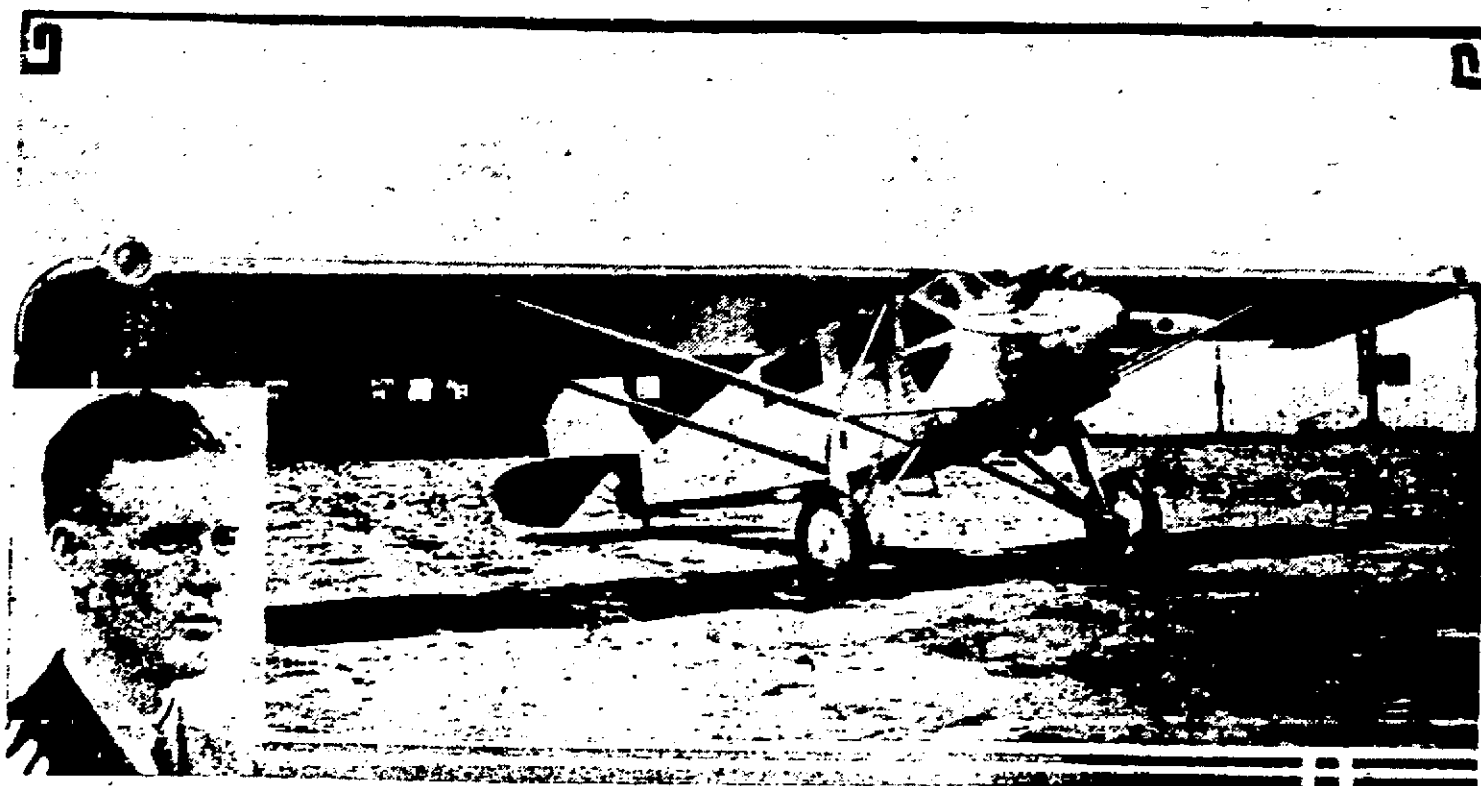

Monday evening at VonBerg's Restaurant on Wall street twenty-five former members of Colonial Chapter of DeMolay enjoyed a delicious turkey supper. The former DeMolay members who are home from college for the Easter vacation, decided on a banquet as the proper event to talk over many matters of interest and the result of the banquet was the outlining of tentative plans for the formation of a DeMolay Alumni Association. Harry Barnhart was unanimously chosen chairman of a committee for the formation and to consider whether or not the local association should affiliate with the National organization. A meeting will be called at a later date, when the decision of the committee will be announced.

Following the discussions there were given some very interesting talks by Principal Van Ingen, the Rev. G. W. Gulick of Ulster Park and "Dad" W. Frank Davis. Principal Van Ingen's talk on "Health, Liberty and Happiness" was listened to with the strictest of attention.

The soloists are: Herman LaTour, tenor; Carl Peterson, basso; Raymond Dubois, baritone. Frederick Richards will preside at the organ.

PLANE MAKERS PRESENT LINDBERGH WITH BRAND NEW CRAFT

This is the first photograph of the new plane built specially for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh (inset) in San Diego, Calif., by the makers of the "Spirit of St. Louis." The plane has accommodations for three passengers in addition to the pilot. It is believed the Flying Colonel will tour Europe in it with his mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, and two friends. However, he is expected to cross the Atlantic by steamer this time. His representatives scouted all reports that Lindbergh contemplates a globe-circling flight.

LOFTIEST RADIO STATION IN EAST ON AIR TONIGHT

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 3.—The loftiest broadcasting transmitter in the East makes its bow to the radio public this evening, from the summit of Mt. Beacon, N. Y. Station WOKO, formerly located at Peckskill, has been transferred to this new location. After many trials and tribulations, including the transport of tall steel towers and all the transmitting equipment up the steep incline railway as well as arranging for the power line and the wire connections down the mountainside and to the distant studios, WOKO has completed its moving and is now installed in new quarters both for its transmitter and its own studio.

In inaugurating the new transmitter, Station WOKO is putting on a special program of surpassing interest. A banquet, held this evening in the Hotel Windsor in Poughkeepsie, will be put on the air at 8 o'clock, and will continue for several hours. Among other features will be addresses by Mayor Segur of Poughkeepsie, Mayor Macomber of Beacon, Judge Hassett, Police Justice of Beacon, Mr. Lodge, Director of Mt. Beacon Casino, and others. Snedden Weir, well-known popular announcer, will be master of ceremonies, as a fitting inauguration of his services as head announcer for WOKO. There will be many treats in the way of professional entertainment during the banquet to be broadcast.

AGED PHYSICIAN FOUND DEAD AT WINDHAM

Lying in about one foot and a half of water in a stream back of Windham, the body of Dr. George Goodell, 79, was found Sunday about noon by searchers who had been out for several hours looking for the missing man. It is thought that the aged man, who was large physically, weighing 254 pounds, did not drown, but died of heart disease. Dr. Goodell had been in Windham since March 6, coming from Hartford, N. Y. He opened an office in Windham and lived at Coe's Hotel. For several days it had been noticed that he had been suffering from what appeared to be frequent attacks of vertigo. He left the hotel Saturday presumably for a walk and when he did not return that evening a search was instituted.

THINKS BOY SHOT PARENTS THEN KILLED HIMSELF

Newark, N. Y., April 3 (AP).—A special grand jury and a coroner's jury to investigate the slaying of Frank S. Warren, his wife and their son last Wednesday were reconvened today by Captain of Detectives John P. McDonald, of the Rochester police department, placed in charge of the investigation yesterday. McDonald said that all the evidence which he had checked yesterday pointed to the theory that Jackson, the 13 year old son, shot his parents, and then committed suicide with the same gun. The bodies of the parents were burned to a crisp by fire either set by the slayer or by the flash of the gun. Villagers refuse to accept this theory, maintaining that the lad could not and would not have done such a thing.

CATSKILL BASEBALL CLUB ORGANIZES FOR SEASON

The Catskill baseball club has been organized for the season and will line up with the same men who played last season. The club will not be a member of the new baseball league which will include teams in Saugerties, Catskill, Athens, Coxsack and Ravena, but will play only semi-pro baseball with fast teams on the home ground and abroad. It is planned to open the season early in May.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT SCHRYVER LUMBER PLANT

The business of the William C. Schryver Lumber Company has increased so rapidly that it has been found necessary to install in their plant on Foxhall avenue a large 60" Buffalo exhaustor, new dust collector and blower piping to all of their machines on the first and second floors of their factory. The entire work is being done by the L. F. Bannan Plumbing, Heating and Contracting Company of Andrew street.

Civil Cases in County Court

County court convened Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with County Judge Joseph M. Fowler presiding. No cases were ready for trial and court went into recess until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock when several civil matters will be taken up for trial. The criminal calendar will be taken up Monday, April 9.

The only matter disposed of was in the matter of Florence E. Symes of New York, seeking the appointment of a commission to administer the estate of her mother, Mary Ellen Dunne, an alleged incompetent person who resides at Saugerties.

A day calendar for Thursday was made up of the following cases:

No. 2, The Liquid Carbonic Company against Isidor S. Hersh and Louis Jalkow.

No. 9, Marion L. Gray against George P. Muller.

No. 11, Francis A. Waters, Jr., against John A. Fischer.

No. 18, Murray as trustee, etc., against Stamatakis. This action was added to the calendar.

Following the trial of the criminal calendar there will probably be several other civil matters taken up for trial.

WOULD CHANGE "MOTHER'S DAY" TO "PARENTS' DAY"

New York, April 3 (AP).—Fathers would be admitted to an equal partnership in "Mother's Day" by the New York State Executive Board of the American War Mothers Association which has adopted a resolution in favor of a change of the title of the second Sunday in May to "Parents' Day."

Mrs. Charles Haas, state president, today announced that approval by the National Executive Board of the association would be sought at its annual meeting at San Antonio, Texas, next September. The national president, Mrs. Mary E. Spence of Milwaukee, has already endorsed the move, she said.

"We must admit," said Mrs. Haas, "that fathers are rather important to a home."

Riverside, N. J., April 3 (AP).—Five men held up John Cunningham, 70, a messenger for the Riverside Trust Company, outside the bank here today, beat him on the head with a pistol and escaped with $4,000.

Cunningham was taking the money to a railroad station for shipment. He was removed to a hospital for treatment. The men escaped in an automobile.

Ulster Grange Celebrates

ner-than with history. Local and general conditions, industrial and social, were reviewed, and a word picture of the now extinct donation party was painted, the conclusion being reached that one of the big works of the Grange is on the social side, to rub off the corners of prejudice, to teach members of the community to consult and work together, to make progress at least worthy of consideration, to bring about interchange of ideas and respect for those who differ with us and to impress the fact that, as a general proposition, extremes are never right.

What was in store for the future was told by Melvin Churchwell, Past Lecturer of Ulster Grange, No. 959, who said:

"Now—if I were a good speaker, I would have a story to tell you. But I haven't—which simply proves that I am not a speaker. I have jotted down what I have to say and when I get this off you will probably say I am a poor reader as well.

"I have been asked to speak briefly to you on the future of the Grange. Unlike the subject matter of the other speakers, there are no facts to state of the future. The future is a matter of fancy—of imagination—of dreams. With our thoughts on the future, what we need first is to get an idea of what the Grange really is.

"Now, as you know, the Grange is an organization composed of farmers and their families whose aim is to foster agriculture. To strive to improve our surroundings—to help the sick and the needy and to keep ourselves unspotted from the world.

"The Grange gives us a place where we can bring our problems, either of a personal or a community nature and expect to receive help. It also gives us the companionship of our brothers and sisters.

"It teaches us how to select good seed and how to plant it, to interest us in our surroundings so that we may see the greenness and goodness of God in the every day tasks we are called upon to do.

"To have faith in our work knowing full well that no trees bear fruit in autumn that do not blossom in the early summer time. To see the good in others and to have faith in our fellow men.

"To have hope—the hope that seed time and harvest will come. That good deeds are ever more conducive of more good.

"To dispense charity as freely as flowers do their perfume.

"It inspires in us a fidelity to the cause that makes us willing to do with our best efforts, unselfishly, the tasks assigned us, realizing that a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things he possesses but in the right use of God's blessings.

"These are some of the aims and ideals for which the Grange has stood. They are ideals that aim to make the farmer's life the brightest and happiest spot on earth.

"So here we are at the present time with our thoughts on the future. What has brought us this far on the journey?

"The Grange of itself did not do it. It was work—work that has been directed by a few leaders who have been able to secure the cooperation of the whole. Leadership and cooperation is what has brought us here and will continue to give us sailing power.

"If you will meditate on the past accomplishments of the Grange for a moment, you will at once recall that it was through the personal direction of some particular person that the work you have in mind was accomplished. They did their work to the best of their abilities and that is how we got here.

"The Grange slogan for 1928 is Service, Sacrifice and Success. The future is up to us—to you and to me. We can make it what we will. We need the spirit of cooperation—the spirit of looking for better and brighter things instead of mourning over the past.

"Each day will bring its problems and it is up to each patron to help in its solution.

"We have our mission to perform—which is—to foster agriculture. This will not lead us to a home port, no more than it is possible to expect that agriculture will ever reach perfection. We will touch port often—just as often as we succeed in our efforts. It is quite important too to remember that the captain on the bridge cannot say to the ship go, and it moves. It requires work and cooperation to produce headway."

"And so we set out on the future. We have no fears of the storms to come. We need the Grange. We have confidence in the cause, and we have faith in our fellow men.

J. Wells Weaver, district deputy was the next speaker called upon by the toastmaster. Mr. Dunond in introducing Mr. Weaver said that at other times it had been the privilege of Mr. Weaver to represent the State Master but since the State Master was present in person he was at a loss to know who Mr. Weaver represented at this time.

Although Mr. Weaver informed the audience that he had been taken rather by surprise when he found he was on the program to speak that statement was later somewhat weakened when State Master Freestone informed the folks that several weeks ago when he visited Mr. Weaver he found him busily engaged in preparing a speech to be delivered at the silver jubilee of Ulster Grange.

Mr. Weaver, in responding to the call of the toastmaster, said that the folks of Ulster county might be outnumbered in the ranks of the Grange by other counties when it came to quantity of membership but he was sure that Ulster county was not far from the rear when it came to quality of members. He predicted that if the past history of the Grange in Ulster county was an indication of what was before it there was certainly a bright future for the Grange in this county. He commented upon the fact that every subordinate Grange was repre-ented and spoke very enthusiastically over the fact that every master was present save one who illness only had prevented being at the banquet. To assemble the masters of every Grange in one room was quite a feat to perform and he complimented Ulster Grange on its ability to do this. In closing he congratulated Ulster Grange for its quarter century of success and extended good wishes for the future.

Harold V. Story, master of the Ulster County Pomona Grange, extended greetings from that body and remarked upon the influence of the Grange in every community where one was in existence. A Grange which had reached the 25-year mark he said had every reason to be proud and on behalf of Ulster County Pomona Grange extended good wishes and congratulations to Ulster Grange. This he said he found rather difficult to do since he was a member of Ulster Grange, the chairman of the committee on arrangements for the celebration and otherwise connected with the affair. For that reason he was not in a position to say what a magnificent affair it had been, he could not comment on the efficiency of the committee in charge of the affair nor could he congratulate the committee on its good work, for should he do so he would but be thanking himself. Everyone present felt, however, that the affair had been a wonderful success and although Mr. Story did not thank any member of the committee or congratulate the Grange everyone else present did and everywhere there was loud praise for the manner in which Ulster Grange and its committees had handled the affair.

Mr. Story extended thanks of Ulster Grange to the management of Golden Rule Inn for the manner in which the affair had been put on and also thanked State Master Freestone on behalf of Ulster County Pomona for his visit and expressed his hope that the Grange in New York state would thrive and grow under the direction of Mr. Freestone.

In a brief but very pointed introductory speech Toastmaster Dunond presented State Master Fred J. Freestone as the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Freestone immediately put himself in the good graces of the audience by telling several humorous stories in a manner which immediately made him one of the home folks. He said that it was his first experience of seeing all of the masters of a county present in one room and this showed the wonderful cooperation among the Grangers of Ulster county. He referred to the good work of the county Granges and to the work of Deputy J. Wells Weaver. At this point he told his audience of his visit to Mr. Weaver several weeks ago and of Mr. Weaver's deep concern at that time over the impending speech which he was to make at the 25th anniversary of Ulster Grange. Mr. Freestone's humor throughout his talk kept everyone else in good humor.

In talking of why a person should belong to the Grange he gave several reasons. To belong to a Grange or any other organization just to get out of it what could be gotten out was wrong. We should put in any organization the best that is in us and if that is done much more will be gotten out. Outlining why one should belong to the Grange, he gave as one of the reasons the fact that the Grange has stood the test of time. It has been organized over 60 years and it has stood the test of these 60 years because the Grange has the interest of the home, the farm, the community and the nation at heart. The Grange is conservative but progressive and that is one of the things which has made it what it is today. Conservative to a degree which many think is too conservative, the Grange makes itself felt where a more forward organization would not. It is never that a big agricultural problem is impending in the nation that the Grange is not asked to help solve that problem and the reason for that is the fact that the Grange is a thinking organization, a time tested organization and one which represents a body of hard thinking individuals.

The wonderful ritualistic work, simple but with a real meaning is another reason for belonging. The membership of the Grange has grown because of the solid foundation upon which it is based. Mr. Freestone said that in the state of New York the membership of the Grange is large; in fact there are more members in New York state than in all of the states west of the Mississippi river.

The Honor Grange system he said made for a better organization and the requirements of the Honor Grange was bringing up the standard of all Granges. This year he said, he hoped to see many more Honor Granges in the state. There is a contest on between counties and he hoped to see Ulster county well up on the list. Also between the states there is a contest as to number of Honor Granges and he hoped to see New York at the head of the list. He stated what the requirements for an Honor Grange are and expressed his belief that Ulster Grange had every requirement. A community boasting an Honor Grange would find the community better as a result.

Any Grange must make itself attractive to the members and to prospective members. There are many counter-attractions today which draw away but a live, active, attractive Grange will always be a drawing card in any community. He cautioned the members to look forward with the proper vision and to work for a bigger and better Grange and the result would be a bigger and better community. The Grangers today are building bridges for the youth of tomorrow, bridges for the youth who in a few years will be men and he urged every Granger to build so that the foundation of the future would be as strong or stronger than that of today.

In closing Mr. Freestone congratulated the members of Ulster Grange, No. 959, on its quarter century of work and progress and expressed his hope that the next quarter century would be bigger and better than the past twenty-five years had been.

The charter members of Ulster Grange, No. 959, were: Mr. and Mrs. E. Hoyt Green, Mr. and Mrs. E. George House, George

WOMAN LAWYER SEES CLIENTS GUILLOTINED

Paris, April 3 (AP).—For the first time in the history of France a woman lawyer assisted at an execution today.

Madame Erlich accompanied her clients, Zinzouk and Pachowski, two Poles, to the guillotine. The execution was the first in Paris in a long time and, as required by law, it was held in public on the Boulevard Arago near the gates of the Sante prison.

Madame Erlich talked to the men to the end in their own tongue and then hurried away after the knife fell, avoiding the crowd of the curious. She said later that she had been tremendously moved by the guillotining.

The condemned men were guilty of seven murders and homicides and scores of thefts. Since they were unable to speak French, they chose Madame Erlich as their attorney because she was of Polish descent and spoke their language.

First Christian Church
 There is some difference of opinion as to what year the first Christian church was actually built. Many historians are of the opinion that the first church to be actually built was at Antioch, probably about A. D. 50.

SOLIMEN CONTINUES

TO HOLD FIRST PLACE

Tucumcari, N. M., April 3 (AP).—Ninety-three athletes remaining in the Los Angeles to New York marathon today faced a 45 mile trek to Glenrio, which will place them in position to enter Texas tomorrow.

Arne Soliminen of Detroit continued to hold first place in elapsed time with 177:45:45, for the 1,670.6 miles a lead of more than four hours over Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla.

Tomorrow the caravan will move 36.4 miles to Vega, Texas, with an additional 26 miles carrying them to Amarillo Thursday.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 3 (AP).—Speculators for the advance regained control of the price movement today after an early period of irregularity. Early gains of the recent industrial favorites ran from 2 to 20 points with a 59 point jump in Wright Aeronautics as the big feature. Reaction of the annual dividend on Atchafalpa from $7 to $10 stimulated activity in the railroad group, which joined the upward procession in the early afternoon. Trading, which had slowed up during the morning, picked up in the afternoon recovery.

While there was a tendency on the part of some traders to take profits in anticipation of the three-day holiday, pools had little difficulty in attracting a public following. Walter P. Chrysler's optimistic statement on business conditions and the outlook for the automobile industry and the increase in the Julius Kaysar dividend had a bullish effect on sentiment.

The sensational advance in Wright was attributed in some quarters to the urgent retreat of a trapped short interest and in others to open market buying for control. Curtiss Aeroplane rallied in sympathy, climbing more than 25 points to a new top at 92. Eastern Kodak, Radio and Rosin Insurance jumped 9 to 10 points and International Business Machines, Montana Power, Houston Oil, Fox Film A and American Chicle sold 4 to 5 points higher.

Atchafalpa and Pittsburgh and West Virginia led the advance in the railroad group by climbing 4 and 5 1/2 points, respectively. New York Central moved up 3 points and St. Louis, San Francisco "Nickel Plate" and Western Maryland moved up 2 points, or more.

Carload of Ale Seized.

Nagars Falls, N. Y., April 3 (AP).

Customs officers seized a freight car loaded with ale in the Erie freight yards here today. The ale was consigned as shingles and lumber to an Ocean Lumber firm, customs officers said, and came from Tucumcari, near Kitchener, Ont.

The officers estimated there were 799 cases of ale in the car. Canadian ale retails for 50 cents a bottle here and the customs men estimated the retail value of the shipment at $8,400. Plans were being made by customs officials to throw the ale from the lower arch bridge into the lower rapids.

Canadian Flood Menace Checked

Winnipeg, Man., April 3 (AP).—Freezing temperatures and snow during the night combined to check the flood menace in western Canada.

Sudden advent of cold weather from the Rockies to the Great Lakes has at least temporarily removed the danger of further flooding of farm lands in the Pike Lake district of northern Saskatchewan and again locked in ice a number of creeks in southern Alberta that had threatened to overflow.

In the Saskatchewan flood zone where the Saskatchewan river has been on a rampage for a week, the mercury recorded a minimum of 15 degrees during the night and official forecasts indicated that the cold spell would continue for another day or two.

Inspection of the Pike Lake district which was inundated by the overflow of last week has shown that the waters receded rapidly yesterday.

Helms Protested Against Lease

Official of Texas-Pacific Coal and Oil Company Telephoned President Harding and Three Members of Cabinet.

Washington, April 3 (AP).—Direk Helms, of New York, testified today before the Senate oil committee that in the spring of 1922 he protested to President Harding, Secretaries Weeks and Hoover and Attorney General Daugherty against the leasing of the Teapot Dome oil reserve to Harry F. Sinclair.

In his testimony at the Fair-Sinclair trial which was read into the record, Helms said he had sent telegrams about the Teapot Dome lease to a cabinet officer.

"Which cabinet officer did you send telegrams to?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Secretary Weeks (the late John W. Weeks); Attorney General Daugherty and Secretary Hoover," Helms replied.

The witness also said he had sent a telegram to President Harding on April 22, 1922. This, as read into the record, protested against the leasing of the Teapot Dome lease without permitting his company to bid on the lease.

Second Protest to Harding. Apparently there was no reply and two days later Helms telegraphed to George B. Christian, then secretary to President Harding, making a further protest.

Helms's testimony was asked for after the committee had decided to offer to Senator Smoot of Utah and former Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin an opportunity to answer charges of Albert B. Fall that a former cabinet officer had advised him to write the famous McLean letter. This letter had named E. D. McLean, Washington publisher, as the source of the $100,000 Fall obtained from E. L. Doheny.

The message to Weeks was dated on April 20, 1922, and asked him, if he were interested, to use his influence in the premises.

The night letter to Daugherty was similar to that to Weeks. That sent to Hoover was along similar lines.

Secretary's Christian's Reply. Christian replied on April 21, 1922, telling Helms that the President could not see him on April 25, as he suggested, because the cabinet met that day and the President planned to leave on April 28 for Ohio to take part in the centenary celebration of the birthday of General Grant.

Weeks replied that no doubt the President would receive Helms.

"For good reasons, I cannot become involved in the controversy," Weeks added.

Helms, who at the time was vice president of the Texas-Pacific Coal and Oil Company, said his company had attempted to lease Teapot Dome. He testified he first learned from Albert B. Fall that Sinclair had closed a contract for the Wyoming reserve.

Telegrams to Cabinet Officers. The telegrams to the cabinet officers said:

"Have just sent following telegram to President and if you are interested hope you will discuss matter with him. Telegram quoted as follows: 'Will it be convenient for you to grant me a few moments of either April 25 or sixth with reference to the proposed development of Teapot Dome structure in Wyoming. As reported approved by you. Have just been advised by Secretary Fall that this matter is closed but feel that my company should have had opportunity to have made a bid upon it as we requested such an opportunity six months ago and were then advised by both the Interior and Navy Departments that development proposition would not be considered for a very long time and furthermore we requested some opportunity a few weeks ago and then understood that we would have such an opportunity to submit a competitive bid.' Please wire collect here."

Mexico Arrests 68 Catholics

Charged With Anti-Government Activities—Mexican Catholics Celebrate Holy Week Without the Offices of Priests.

Mexico City, April 3 (AP).—Sixty-eight adherents of the Roman Catholic Church were under arrest today charged with anti government activities while Mexican Catholics for the second time celebrated Holy Week without the offices of priests.

The arrests were made in the suburb of Coyacan when police raided a house where they claimed they found propaganda aimed at the government and evidence that those arrested were an organization supporting the insurgent movement in the state of Jalisco. Three priests, Fathers Luis Diaz Barriga, Pablo Buenrostro Escobar and Julian Aguilar Amazo, were among those taken into custody. They were charged also with having violated the religious laws by conducting Mass in a private residence.

Mexico City newspapers today published a government statement which they said indicated that the insurgent movement in Jalisco had abated to a considerable extent and was nearing the end.

The statement announced that General Andres Figueroa, military commandant of Jalisco, had granted permission to return to their homes to all persons who had been ordered by the government to concentrate in Guadalajara several months ago.

El Universal said that towns in the Los Altos district, once a hotbed of insurgents, were being repopulated and the inhabitants were thankful that the order had been cancelled. They swore loyalty to the government and promised to assist in fighting the remaining insurgent bands.

The concentration in the cities was ordered by General Amaro, secretary of war, when he went to the field to direct the government operations. About 12,000 families were forced to abandon their home towns in order to aid the government campaign by depriving the insurgents of any possible assistance.

Carnival Spirit in Mexico City.

Mexico City, in contrast to that blood-bathed district, showed no outward evidence of any feelings on the religious question, and the customary Holy Week carnival spirit prevailed.

People entered priestless churches as they pleased and offered their prayers without interference. In some of the churches laymen and even women conducted services as far as they were able as substitutes for priests. This has been done since the priests withdrew from the churches as a protest against the religious laws when they became effective on July 31, 1926. Priests were withdrawn at that time on instructions from the Mexican episcopate.

The controversy itself is apparently as firmly deadlocked as when the laws went into effect. The government has given no indication of any intention to modify its position, that the only thing necessary to end the controversy is for the church to obey the law.

GALLIVAN, OPPONENT OF PROHIBITION, DIES

Arlington, Mass., April 3 (AP).—James A. Gallivan of Boston, Democratic member of Congress from the Twelfth Massachusetts district since 1914, died today at a local hospital.

Gallivan's death leaves the Democrats with only two Congressmen from this state out of a total delegation of 16. Representing a strong Democratic district, lying wholly in Boston, Gallivan never encountered serious opposition in any election. In 1926 when he was last re-elected the Republicans made no nomination in his district.

Gallivan attracted national attention by his outspokenness in debate in Congress. Many of his speeches were spectacular.

He was known as one of the most ardent opponents of prohibition in the National Capital. He opposed ratification of the 18th amendment and passage of the Volstead Act and since prohibition became effective had devoted much of his attention to efforts to bring about their repeal.

SMOOT DECLINES CHANCE TO MAKE STATEMENT

Washington, April 3 (AP).—Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, today turned down an opportunity offered by the Senate Teapot Dome Committee to make a statement replying to charges of Albert B. Fall that he was advised by a Senator, a former Senator and former cabinet officer, to write the McLean letter covering up his $100,000 transaction with Edward L. Doheny.

Smoot said he did not deem it necessary to amplify his denial given to the press yesterday.

Among bills enacted were: Measures for prevention of securities frauds and dealing with apprentice conditions; establishment of a research foundation; and amendments to the school law and statutes.

Mother Awarded Bulk of Estate

Lansing, Mich., April 3 (AP).—The state supreme court today awarded the bulk of the $7,500,000 estate of Anna Margaret Dodge, deceased, daughter of the late John F. Dodge, to her mother, Mrs. Mathilda W. Dodge, now the wife of a Detroit businessman.

The court held that Mrs. Dodge should receive all of the personal property, which is most of the estate, and that the real estate should be divided among Anna Margaret, her brothers and sisters. This decision overruled the finding of the Wayne county circuit court giving the estate to the mother.

John F. Dodge made a will in 1918 but made no provision for Anna Margaret, born in 1919, who died. She died five years later. The court held that her real estate was of "ancestral character" and therefore becomes the property of her brothers and sisters, but that the personal

Voters' Choosing State Delegates

Democratic Delegates to National Convention Elected in Today's Primary Will Support Governor Smith's Candidacy for President—Republican Delegates are Unpledged.

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—The home state of Governor Alfred E. Smith, an avowed candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, went to the primaries today to select Democratic convention delegates who will be committed to the governor's nomination, and Republican delegates who will go to their party's convention in Kansas City unpledged to any candidate.

An exceptionally small number of contests for district delegates confront the voters of both parties. Although there are five contests, three Republican—one each in Manhattan, Brooklyn, and the Erie-Niagara Congressional district; and two Democratic—in the 33d and 34th Congressional districts, the majority of the contests are factional affairs.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University is involved in the contest in the 19th (Manhattan) district. With Robert P. Lewis, he is opposed by Thomas M. Ballie and Lois E. Barr. President Butler and Mr. Lewis are the Republican organization designees. The other metropolitan contest is in the Seventh (Brooklyn) district, between Frank Bonders, Independent, and Paul Windels and Irving D. Lipkowitz, organization candidates.

The remaining Republican contest in the 10th (Erie-Niagara) district involves George S. Hobbie of Lewiston, a "dry" candidate, who is opposing Edward H. Butler of Buffalo and Paul A. Schoellkopf of Lewiston Heights, designees of the organization.

The Democratic fight in the 33d district is based on failure of the Democratic candidate in the Utica mayoralty election last year. M. William Bray, Oneida county leader, and T. Hurvey Ferris, both of Utica, the organization choices, are being opposed by former Mayor Jeremiah Carroll of Rome, and Thomas A. Mortimer of Utica, on the ground that the Democratic organization failed to give proper support to former Mayor Frederick Gilmore of Utica in his unsuccessful campaign for re-election.

The Democratic organization of the counties of Broome, Chenango, Delaware and Otsego are involved in the second contest of that party. William W. Farley, Broome county leader for 25 years and a former chairman of the state committee, and John S. Taylor of Oneonta were named the organization delegates, but they are being opposed by David P. Lee of Binghamton, a former Supreme court justice, and Edward A. King of Cooperstown. The organization delegates were chosen by the Broome county group and their opponents by the Otsego county Democrats, while Chenango and Delaware counties have so far remained neutral.

Eighty-six Democratic district delegates and 83 Republican delegates-at-large with half a vote each will be selected by the Democratic state committee on April 17. The Republican state committee already has named its seven delegates-at-large.

Mirrors 3,000 Years Old

When the modern girl picks up a hand-mirror to admire herself, she is only following the example of young women of 3,000 years ago.

Archaeologists in Media, in Greece, have discovered in tombs of the Mycenaean period several hand-mirrors, one with an ivory handle. Silvered glass was unknown in those days, and mirrors were made of sheets of polished metal.

Even before polished metal was used, girls had their mirrors. They used polished stone, dipping it into water so that the thin film of liquid would serve as a reflecting surface.

Skunks Show Mercy

Under the skunk Geneva convention the use of a gas-attack is strictly forbidden in any battle which only skunks are engaged in, says Nature Magazine. In such a fight the combatants depend entirely on tooth and claw. Sometimes that ferocious death-in-the-dark, the great horned owl, will occasionally pounce on a skunk. Usually, however, he finds that the latter's antiaircraft armament is too strong for him and retires without honor to bear about with him the aftermath of his raid until his next molting.

The Owl's Eyes

Owl's eyes are fixed. As compensation, however, they can turn their heads almost in a complete circle.

American Children as Frenchman Sees Them

"American children are 'insouciant,' open-minded and gay," so writes a noted observer in Comedie, a Paris paper, after a visit to the United States. "They work without effort, that is to say, very little. They only learn the indispensable. In the big cities many streets are reserved for them and their plays. They are safe from the life-crushing juggernauts of modern traffic. At the age of twelve an American child upholds his own opinion against that of his parents and opposes his 'reactions' to their 'reactions.' They are treated and addressed as if they were adults. At fifteen they go out to earn a living, without losing their insouciance and their gaiety. They will have known neither laziness, nor indolence. And they will die without having noticed that they have lived. Quietness and retreat in the eventide of life, preparation for death; those are unknown things in a country where death is but an insignificant detail."—Pierre Van Hassen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

Legal Phraseology

In modern usage a discrimination has been made between the two words, "devise" and "bequest," and "devise" is used for the conveying of real property and "bequest" for the conveyance of personal property.

State Income Tax Man Here

Salaries workers who have not heretofore filed New York state income tax returns are often delinquent. "It is because they are not familiar with the law requiring them to file," said John G. Malone, district director, "and consequently they are required to pay penalty and interest when they do file."

"The law requires every person whose net income for the taxable year is $1,500 or over, if single, or if married and not living with husband or wife, or $2,500 or over for married persons living with husband or wife to file a return, or if their gross income is $5,000 or over, regardless of the amount of net income."

"We want to avoid imposing interest and penalty. Our business is collecting tax."

This class of taxpayer and others who are doubtful of any particular with reference to their filing duties will find ready response to their inquiry by calling on Auditor Hayes at the court house, Kingston, April 2-7, who is located there for this express purpose.
